

Noluthando Khumalo

TOP 10 KZN Shaper

Background and goals

Noluthando Khumalo, a dedicated crop farmer with a Bachelor's degree in Agriculture, began her farming journey three years ago. In the next year, she plans to construct two additional structures and acquire a delivery van to streamline logistics. Her long-term vision includes expanding to 50 hectares with multiple greenhouses and shade houses to boost production capacity.

Challenges

Natural disasters, particularly snowfall, have severely impacted Noluthando's operations, causing infrastructure damage and crop loss. These challenges highlight the need for stronger, weather-resistant farming structures.

Opportunities and support needed

To mitigate risks and enhance productivity, Noluthando aims to invest in a controlled-environment greenhouse. She is also interested in secondary processing of her produce to increase value and market reach. An estimated investment of R2 million would enable her to achieve these goals and drive sustainable growth.
